

press release

15 October 2009

Julia
Caprara school of textile arts

TWO OF ITS GRADUATES WIN AWARDS

Andrea Butler was last week awarded the nationwide title of "Graduate of the Year 09/10" by the Textile Study Group in the UK. For further details see also the website of the TSG: www.textilestudygroup.co.uk/noticeboard

Andrea Butler

Susie Vickery

On the same day, Susie Vickery won the Christine Risley Award which is a yearly prize awarded by Goldsmiths University in London in association with the Constance Howard Resource and Research Centre. This award entitles her to two solo exhibitions at Goldsmiths University and at the Knitting & Stitching Show in London during next year. For further details see also:

www.gold.ac.uk/constance-howard

A selection of work of both graduates can be seen at the Knitting & Stitching Show in Harrogate (16 –19 November).

Our congratulations to both of them!!

Julia Caprara School of Textile Arts (formerly OPUS) is a private art college based in the UK which provides a unique distance-learning course leading to a BA (Hons) in Embroidered Textiles, validated by Middlesex University.

Since 2004 when the first students graduated, more than 100 students have obtained the degree from the School. Currently, students from the UK, Canada, New Zealand, Germany, France, Switzerland and Italy are enrolled on the course.

For further details see the website: www.jctextilearts.com or contact Winy Smit, Managing Director,
T: +44 1787 376746 or E: winy@jctextilearts.com